All recipes assume that produce is washed and ready for consumption. Nutritional facts do not include optional toppings.
According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), Americans are eating and drinking too much added sugar, which can lead to negative health outcomes [1]. It is preferable to minimize sugar consumption in the morning to help stabilize blood sugar and feel satiated throughout the day. This savory breakfast offers a quick and nutritious meal perfect for any day of the week.

TOMATO BASIL Egg Scramble

Nutrition Facts (per serving): 195 calories, 14g fat, 3.8g saturated fat, 290mg sodium, 3.2g carbohydrate, 0.8g fiber, 2.0g sugar, 13g protein

Ingredients

1 teaspoon extra virgin olive oil or unsalted butter
½ medium tomato, chopped (approx. ½ cup)
2 large eggs
Sea salt to taste
2 tablespoons fresh basil, chopped

Toast or potatoes, to serve

Directions

1. Add extra virgin olive oil (or butter) to a pan over medium-low heat. Add chopped tomatoes and sauté for several minutes until tomatoes start to soften.

2. Meanwhile, crack eggs into a small bowl, add salt and pepper, and whisk to combine.

3. Add egg mixture to tomatoes and cook for a few minutes until eggs are done.

4. Add chopped basil and stir to combine.

5. Serve warm with whole grain toast or roasted potatoes, if desired.
According to the US Department of Health and Human Services, Americans should keep their consumption of added sugars to less than 10% of their total daily calories to prevent disease [2]. Most pancakes are made of primarily white flour, which contains little nutritional value and leads to a spike in blood sugar. This pancake recipe uses fewer ingredients and is higher in fat and protein, promoting satiety. Furthermore, the mashed banana adds natural sweetness to these pancakes. Try adding a spice, such as cardamom or ginger, for a unique flavor.

Pancakes

Ingredients

- 1 large ripe banana
- 2 large eggs, lightly beaten
- 1 tablespoon cocoa powder
- ¼ teaspoon vanilla extract
- ¼ teaspoon cinnamon
- ¼ teaspoon cardamom
- ¼ teaspoon ginger
- ½ teaspoon butter
- ¼ cup chopped nuts
- Sliced apples
- Berries
- Maple syrup
- Honey
- Cinnamon

Directions

1. In a small bowl, peel and mash banana with a fork into a pudding-like consistency.
2. Add eggs and flavorings (if desired). Stir to combine.
3. Melt 1 teaspoon butter or mild cooking oil in a pan over medium heat. When pan is hot, add batter to reach desired size and let cook for 1 minute. The edges will look browned while the center will still look loose.
4. Sprinkle with toppings, if desired.
5. Gently flip the pancakes and cook about 1 more minute, until lightly browned on both sides.
6. Cook remaining pancakes until all batter is used. Serve warm.

This recipe is full of fiber, helping to promote a healthy heart and digestive system. This recipe can be very versatile, depending on what nuts or seeds you have on hand and what fruit is in season. Try chopped pear in the fall, orange sections in the winter, cherries in the spring, and chopped peaches in the summer.

Ingredients

- ½ cup rolled oats
- ½ cup any dairy or non-dairy milk
- 2 tablespoons plain yogurt
- 2 teaspoons chia seeds
- 1 teaspoon honey (optional)
- ½ cup fruit (such as blueberries, blackberries, or chopped apple)

Directions

1. Add oats, milk, yogurt, chia seeds, and honey (if desired) to jar and stir. Refrigerate overnight or for at least 8 hours.
2. Before serving, top with fruit. If you prefer warm oats, microwave for 1 minute.

According to the CDC, fewer than 1 in 10 children and adults eat the recommended daily amount of vegetables [3]. One serving of this dish provides more than 80% of a woman’s and more than half of a man’s recommended daily intake of fiber, thanks to the beans and sweet potato. Try creating new combinations with this base recipe. For example, make a Greek-style stuffed sweet potato using chopped dill and chickpeas instead of cilantro and black beans, or French-style using thyme and lentils.

Stuffed Potato

Serves 2

PREP TIME 5-7 min
COOK TIME 5-7 min
TOTAL TIME 14 min

Ingredients
- 2 medium sweet potatoes (about 6 ounces each)
- 1 15-ounce can black beans (no salt added), drained and rinsed
- 1 medium tomato, diced
- ½ teaspoon ground cumin
- ¼ teaspoon garlic powder
- ¼ teaspoon fine sea salt
- 2 teaspoons extra virgin olive oil
- 3 tablespoons plain yogurt
- 2 tablespoons chopped fresh cilantro

Directions
1. Use a fork to poke sweet potatoes several times. Place on a microwavable dish and heat on high for 5-7 minutes, until completely tender.
2. Meanwhile, mix beans, tomato, cumin, sea salt, and garlic powder in a small microwavable bowl. Microwave for 1 minute. Add olive oil and stir to combine.
3. Cut the sweet potato in half lengthwise. Add half of filling to each potato and top with yogurt and cilantro. Serve warm.

BURRITO Bowl

This meal is reminiscent of a burrito bowl from your favorite fast casual restaurant. You can make it at home in the same amount of time it would take you to order and wait in line, but save money, avoid extravagant portion sizes, and control the quality of your ingredients.

Ingredients

- 1/2 cup precooked or frozen brown rice or quinoa
- 1/2 cup cooked black beans
- 1/8 teaspoon cumin
- 1/8 teaspoon cayenne
- 1/8 teaspoon cayenne
- 1/8 teaspoon cayenne
- 1/3 cup red cabbage, shredded
- 3 ounces shredded or chopped leftover chicken or extra-firm tofu
- 1/3 avocado, chopped
- 2 tablespoons fresh salsa

Directions

1. If using frozen rice, cook according to instructions on package. If using precooked rice, add to beans and reheat in step 2.
2. Add black beans, spices, and a splash of water to a microwavable bowl and heat on high for 30 to 45 seconds.
3. In a serving dish, layer rice, beans, cabbage, chicken or tofu, avocado, and top with salsa.

SMASHED CHICKPEA
Avocado Sandwich

SERVES 2

Ingredients

- 4 slices whole grain bread
- 1 cup cooked chickpeas
- 1 large ripe avocado
- ¼ lemon, juiced
- ⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper
- Pinch fine sea salt
- Pinch of red pepper flakes (optional)
- 1 cup sprouts (or any salad green)

Directions

1. Toast 2 slices of bread per person.

2. Meanwhile, use a fork to smash chickpeas in a medium bowl. Add avocado and use fork to smash again until avocado is nearly smooth.

3. Stir in lemon juice, salt, pepper, and red pepper flakes (if using).

4. Divide and spread filling over 2 of the slices, and top with sprouts and remaining slice of bread. Serve warm.

According to the Mayo Clinic, foods containing fiber can provide health benefits such as promoting a healthy weight and lowering your risk of heart disease, diabetes, and certain types of cancer [5]. This sandwich is reminiscent of a creamy chicken salad sandwich but instead uses chickpeas for a fiber-filled source of plant protein. With the addition of the avocado, 1 sandwich provides more than ½ of the daily fiber recommended for women and 1/3 for men.
VEGETARIAN Chili

This is a speedy version of a chili that typically takes an hour or more to cook on the stove. It provides plenty of flavor to keep you full and satisfied.

Ingredients

- 1 teaspoon extra virgin olive oil
- ¼ cup chopped onion
- 1½ tablespoons chili powder
- ¼ teaspoon fine sea salt
- 1 15-ounce can no salt added diced tomatoes
- 1 15-ounce can no salt added tomato sauce
- 1 15-ounce can kidney beans, rinsed and drained

Directions

1. Add oil to large pan over medium-high heat. Add onion, chili powder, and sea salt and cook until onions are soft, up to 5 minutes.
2. Add tomatoes, tomato sauce, and beans. Bring to a boil over medium heat. Cook 5 minutes.
3. Serve with favorite chili toppings, if desired.

Nutrition Facts (per serving): 345 calories, 4.6g fat, 0.5g saturated fat, 452mg sodium, 63g carbohydrate, 21g fiber, 17g sugar, 18g protein

OPTIONAL TOPPINGS

Sliced scallion, tortilla chips, cilantro, plain yogurt, cheddar cheese, sliced avocado, guacamole, pickled jalapeños
Options for precooked chicken might include pieces from a whole rotisserie chicken, pre-packaged grilled chicken, chicken from a salad bar, or leftover plain chicken meat from a previous meal. Be aware that precooked chicken from the grocery store likely has a lot of added salt, so try to make your own if possible. According to the Mayo Clinic, your taste for salt is acquired, so you can learn to enjoy less [6].

Tacos

Ingredients

- 4 ounces shredded or chopped precooked chicken (approx. ¾ cup)
- 3 butter lettuce leaves
- ½ cup fresh salsa
- 2 tablespoons guacamole

Directions

1. If desired, warm chicken by putting it in a microwavable bowl and heating it on medium power for 1 minute.
2. Divide chicken among leaves. Top with fresh salsa and guacamole and serve.

BEEF & BEAN Burritos

Many frozen or restaurant burritos are filled with beef and rice, with little nutritional value and excessive sodium and preservatives. This version includes beans for added fiber and plant protein; vegetables for added flavor and nutrition; and whole grain tortillas for extra vitamins, minerals, and fiber. Feel free to substitute another type of ground meat, quinoa, or scrambled tofu instead of beef.

Directions

1. Heat oil in medium pan over medium-high heat. Add onion and cook for 1–2 minutes.

2. Add ground beef and cook until browned, up to 5 minutes. (If using quinoa, skip this step and add it along with the beans). Stir in beans and heat through. Mix in vegetables.

3. Lay a tortilla flat on a plate and add 1/6 of the mixture, top with cheese, and form a roll. Repeat the process with remaining tortillas.

4. Serve while filling is warm or, if desired, pour 1 tablespoon oil into a heated pan. Place all 6 burritos on the pan and cook for 2 minutes on medium-high heat. Flip on the other side and cook for another minute or until the burritos are lightly browned.

5. Serve warm with salsa, yogurt, and/or simple salad, if desired. Wrap leftover burritos in parchment paper and aluminum foil to freeze for future meals.

Ingredients

- 2 teaspoons extra virgin olive oil
- ¼ cup chopped onion
- ½ pound ground beef (or 1 cup cooked quinoa)
- 1 15-ounce can pinto beans, drained and rinsed
- 1 medium tomato, diced
- 1 cup lettuce, chopped
- 2 tablespoons cilantro, chopped
- 6 large (10”) whole grain tortillas
- ½ cup shredded Mexican cheese blend

OPTIONAL Toppings

Salsa, yogurt, chopped lettuce

This is a quick way to serve fresh fish for dinner that relies on simple ingredients that you probably already have at home. This recipe will work best with a soft, mild white fish, such as snapper or flounder, but feel free to substitute based on what is fresh, local, wild caught, and/or on sale. For a side dish, baked potatoes are an easy, healthy side dish. Although they are typically covered in sour cream, butter, and other toppings, adding a bit of yogurt and olive oil make for a healthier version.

Ingredients

BLACKENED FISH
- 1 1/2 tablespoons Cajun seasoning
- 1/8 teaspoon ground black pepper
- 1/8 teaspoon cayenne
- 2 5-ounce fish filets (such as trout, snapper, or flounder)
- 1 tablespoon extra virgin olive oil

SALAD
- 4 cups mixed greens
- 1 teaspoon extra virgin olive oil
- 1 tablespoon balsamic vinegar

OPTIONAL SIDES
- 2 tablespoons plain yogurt
- 2 small white potatoes (approximately 5 ounces each)

Nutrition Facts (per serving): 437 calories, 18g fat, 2.7g saturated fat, 751mg sodium, 34g carbohydrate, 4.2g fiber, 3.5g sugar, 34g protein

Directions

1. Mix Cajun seasoning, pepper, and cayenne together in a small bowl.
2. Moisten sides of each filet with water and coat with about 2 teaspoons of spice mixture.
3. Heat oil in a skillet over medium-high heat. Once oil is hot, add filets and cook for about 3 minutes per side, or until fish is opaque and can be flaked with a fork.
4. Meanwhile, prick potatoes several times with a fork and microwave for 5-7 minutes, until soft when poked with a fork. Remove and cut in half lengthwise and transfer to serving plates.
5. Transfer fish from pan to serving plates. Add spoonful of plain yogurt and drizzle of olive oil to potatoes.
6. Add half of greens to each plate. Make dressing by whisking together oil and vinegar. Drizzle over greens and serve immediately.
VEGETABLE Stir Fry

Homemade dishes like this stir fry help to avoid unhealthy preservatives commonly used in restaurants and store-bought sauces. This stir fry is reminiscent of a dish from a Chinese takeout restaurant but uses wholesome and nutritious ingredients, such as heart-healthy olive oil and fresh ginger and garlic. Feel free to substitute any precooked vegetables—such as zucchini, broccoli, and/or carrots—that you may have on hand for the frozen vegetables [7].

SERVES 2

Directions

1. Heat large pan over medium heat.
2. Add rice and 2 tablespoons water and cook, covered, for 5 minutes.
3. Heat 2 teaspoons of olive oil in a large skillet over medium-high heat and cook tofu cubes until browned on both sides, about 8 minutes. Set aside. If you have time, remove extra water from tofu by pressing it between 2 towels, topped with a cutting board or pan to press it down.
4. Combine the soy sauce, garlic, ginger, red pepper flakes, and sugar (if desired) in a bowl.
5. Add remaining oil to the hot pan, add vegetables, and cook for approximately 2-3 minutes or until heated through.
6. Add the tofu back into the pan, drizzle with sauce, and toss to combine.
7. Serve warm over rice. Drizzle with sesame oil, if desired.

Ingredients

- 2 cups frozen or precooked brown rice
- 1 tablespoon extra virgin olive oil or other mild cooking oil, divided
- 8 ounces firm tofu, drained and cubed
- ½ tablespoon low sodium soy sauce
- 1 garlic clove, minced
- 1 teaspoon ginger, minced
- Pinch of red pepper flakes
- ½ teaspoon brown sugar (optional)
- 2 cups frozen stir fry vegetables
- ½ teaspoon sesame oil, for garnish (optional)

According to the World Health Organization (WHO), eating a variety of whole and fresh foods every day helps children and adults obtain the right amount of essential nutrients [8]. This 1-pan dinner combines all of your favorite flavors and textures found in Tex-Mex cuisine in a balanced meal that can be adapted to different ingredients you may have on hand. To make this recipe even faster, omit the onion, zucchini, pepper, and corn and instead add a frozen bag of vegetables just before the beef finishes browning in step 3.

Ingredients

- 1 tablespoon extra virgin olive oil
- 1 small onion, chopped
- 1 medium bell pepper, chopped
- 1 small zucchini, chopped
- 2 medium cloves garlic, minced
- 1 pound ground beef or crumbled tofu
- 1 15-ounce can black beans, rinsed and drained
- 1 can corn, drained; 1½ cups frozen corn; or 1 large ear of corn with kernels cut off the cob
- 2 teaspoons chili powder
- 1 teaspoon ground cumin
- 1 teaspoon paprika
- ¼ teaspoon fine sea salt
- ¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
- ½ lime, juiced

Directions

1. Heat oil in a large pan over medium-high heat.
2. Add onion, pepper, and zucchini to pan and sauté for approximately 4 minutes, until soft. Add garlic and cook for 1 minute.
3. Add beef and toss to combine. Let cook for 5 minutes, stirring occasionally until beef is lightly browned and cooked through.
4. Add beans, corn, and spices. Stir to combine and cook for another 2 minutes.
5. Add lime juice, transfer to serving dishes, and serve warm.

GINGER PORK & Brown Rice Salad Bowl

PREP TIME
10 min

COOK TIME
7 min

TOTAL TIME
17 min

This meal incorporates several classic Vietnamese flavors to create a delicious and refreshing meal that is much healthier than food from restaurant dishes, which are often loaded with processed oils, preservatives, and added sugar. You may substitute lentils for the pork to create a vegetarian version of this meal that will carry all of the same great flavor and still offer plenty of protein for a balanced meal.

Ingredients

1 cup frozen or precooked brown rice
1 pound ground pork (or 2 cups cooked lentils)
2 cloves garlic, minced
1 small red chili, minced (remove seeds if desired)
2 inches fresh ginger, peeled and grated
1 teaspoon brown sugar
1½ tablespoons low sodium soy sauce
1 large cucumber, thinly sliced
2 scallions, thinly sliced
1 cup fresh cilantro, roughly chopped
½ cup fresh mint, roughly chopped
2 limes, juiced

Directions

1 In a small pan, cook rice according to package instructions.
2 In a large skillet over medium-high heat, add ground pork and cook for 7 minutes or until evenly browned. Skip this step if using lentils.
3 Add garlic, chili, ginger, sugar, and soy sauce to pork (or lentils, if using). Toss to combine and cook 1 minute. Remove from heat.
4 Serve pork and cucumbers over warm rice and top with chopped cilantro, mint, and scallions.

TUSCAN Chicken Pasta

Using precooked chicken saves time in this recipe. You can use meat from a rotisserie chicken or leftover cooked chicken from a previous night. In a pinch, you can buy cooked chicken pieces from a salad bar or other prepared food section at a grocery store. Furthermore, while this recipe calls for grape tomatoes and kale, feel free to substitute whatever green leafy vegetable and form of tomato you have on hand. Note that more delicate greens, like spinach or arugula, will take less than 1 minute to wilt.

PREP TIME 5 min
COOK TIME 10 min
TOTAL TIME 15 min

Ingredients
- 8 ounces whole grain pasta (such as linguine or fettuccine)
- 2 tablespoons extra virgin olive oil plus more for garnish
- 3 cloves garlic, minced
- 1 pint grape or cherry tomatoes
- 1 bunch kale, chopped (approximately 4 cups, packed)
- 2 cups cooked chicken, chopped (or 1 15-ounce can cannellini beans, drained and rinsed)
- ½ teaspoon dried basil
- ½ teaspoon fine sea salt
- ¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
- 1 ounce shredded Parmesan

Directions
1. Prepare pasta according to package instructions. After draining cooked pasta, drizzle with olive oil and toss to prevent sticking.
2. After draining cooked pasta, drizzle with olive oil and toss to prevent sticking.
3. Add tomatoes and cook for 3 minutes, until tomatoes begin to burst.
4. Add kale, chicken, basil, salt, and pepper and cook until kale is wilted and chicken is heated through, 2–3 minutes.
5. Add pasta to pan and toss to combine. Sprinkle with Parmesan and serve warm.

STOVETOP Frittata

According to the WHO, vegetables are an important source of vitamins, minerals, dietary fiber, plant protein, and antioxidants [8]. This recipe is intended to help use up any vegetables and cooked grains you may have on hand. You can also use dried herbs if you don’t have any fresh herbs on hand, using 1 teaspoon of dried herbs in place of 1 tablespoon of fresh herbs. Furthermore, while most frittata recipes call for final cooking in the oven, this recipe only uses the stovetop, making it much faster since it doesn’t require waiting for the oven to preheat.

Ingredients

- 6 large eggs
- 6 ounces leftover roasted vegetables, cut into ½-inch pieces (about 1½ cups)
- ½ cup leftover cooked grains (such as barley or quinoa)
- 1 tablespoon finely chopped tender herbs (such as thyme, basil, or chives)
- ¼ teaspoon fine sea salt
- ¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
- 2 tablespoons extra virgin olive oil, divided

Directions

1. Whisk together 6 eggs in a medium bowl. Add vegetables, grains, herbs, salt, and pepper. Mix to combine.

2. Heat 1 tablespoon of oil in a medium, shallow-edged pan over medium heat.

3. Add egg mixture and cook until edges are set, about 30 seconds.

4. Moving around the surface of the pan with a spatula, scrape egg from bottom of pan and bring edges toward center of pan to let uncooked egg flow down to surface. Then let mixture sit until edges are set again and lightly browned, about 1 minute.

5. Reduce heat to low and continue to cook, tilting pan and agitating egg with spatula to allow uncooked egg to flow underneath, until center is mostly set shaken, about 5 minutes.

6. Shake pan to loosen frittata. Place a large plate over pan and invert frittata onto plate.

7. Heat remaining 1 tablespoon oil in pan over medium heat. Slide frittata back into pan and reduce heat to low. Cook until set, about 3 minutes. Let cool in pan for 5 minutes.

8. Flip onto a cutting board, cut into wedges, and serve warm.

Ingredients

8 ounces legume-based pasta (such as chickpea penne or red lentil rotini)
3 tablespoons extra virgin olive oil, divided
2 cloves garlic, minced
8 ounces maitake mushrooms
2 cups chopped kale
1 teaspoon fine sea salt
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
½ teaspoon red pepper flakes
2 teaspoons lemon zest
1 tablespoon rosemary, chopped
½ cup chopped walnuts

Directions

1. Boil a large pot of water and cook pasta according to package instructions. After draining cooked pasta, drizzle with 1 tablespoon olive oil and toss to prevent sticking.

2. In a separate small pan, heat 1 tablespoon olive oil over medium heat. Add garlic and cook for about 30 seconds. Add mushrooms and cook for about 2 minutes. Add kale, toss to combine, and cook about 3 more minutes or until wilted.

3. Add salt, black pepper, red pepper, and lemon zest to pan with vegetables, stirring to combine.

4. When pasta has finished cooking, drain and add to pan with vegetables. Drizzle with remaining 1 tablespoon of olive oil and top with chopped rosemary and walnuts. Serve warm.

According to Mayo Clinic, high-fiber foods tend to be more filling than low-fiber foods, so you’re likely to eat less and stay satisfied longer [5]. Using a legume-based pasta adds much more fiber and protein than a traditional pasta made of white flour to create a balanced vegetarian meal. Varieties that may work with this recipe include those made of lentils, chickpeas, or edamame. Since you are using the peel of a lemon, try to buy an organic lemon, if possible, to reduce exposure to pesticides.

This recipe only contains natural sugars, as opposed to added sugars. To make this into a sundae, make a magic “chocolate shell” by stirring together 1 tablespoon of cocoa powder, 1 tablespoon of coconut oil, and 1 teaspoon of maple syrup. When it is poured over the frozen nice cream, it will naturally harden and create a delicious chocolate topping.

Ingredients

- 2 overripe large bananas, sliced and frozen
- Splash of milk of choice, if needed
- Pinch of salt, if desired

OPTIONAL

- 1 tablespoon peanut butter
- 1 tablespoon chocolate chips

Directions

1. Place banana and salt (if using) into a blender or food processor. Blend until smooth, adding milk if needed to help create a creamy texture.

2. Scoop into serving bowls. Top with any desired toppings and serve.

According to the CDC, only 4 in 10 children and less than 1 in 7 adults eat enough fruit [3]. In this fruit-filled recipe, feel free to substitute different fruits that are in season, such as peaches or cherries. You can also substitute another nut, such as walnuts or pistachios, in equal amounts. Also, for a nut-free version, try substituting pumpkin seeds in place of the pecans.

Directions

1. Line a plate with parchment paper. Set aside.
2. Melt 2 tablespoons of butter or oil in a pan over medium heat. Stir in pecans, oats, brown sugar, and salt. Cook until mixture begins to brown, about 5 minutes.
3. When topping is done cooking, transfer to a parchment-lined plate.
4. Melt another ½ tablespoon butter or oil over medium heat. Sauté apples for 5 minutes, until soft. Stir in sugar, lemon juice, and cinnamon; simmer 2 minutes. Top with oat mixture and serve warm.

Ingredients

- 2 ½ tablespoons unsalted butter or coconut oil
- ½ cup chopped pecans
- ½ cup rolled oats
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- ½ teaspoon fine sea salt
- 2 tart apples, such as Granny Smith, Winesap, or Pink Lady, sliced into wedges (about 4 cups)
- 1 tablespoon granulated sugar
- 1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
